Miho writes a letter of his survival on An Italian account of the shipwreck is A votive painting is May 16, 1876 from written in 1877 by Canon Stjepan commissioned by Australia to his The Skurla and entitled "I Naufraghi del Baccich's family to parents. Stefano's celebrate the two Bark Austro-Ungarico Stefano alla ship bell Costa Nord-Ovest dell' Australia." survivors. It is placed was Two copies are made. One stays with in the Church of Our created From 1880s to Miho, the other is ultimately placed in Lady of Mercy in in 1870. Original is in the Maritime Museum in Croatia. Dubrovnik, Croatia. 1910s Miho Maritime sends to and Museum of receives letters Dubrovnik in from Captain Bell was Painting travels handwritten Tuckey of the found in to Australia in form. pearling ship. 1997 and Early 2000s, the early 2000 for a given to the aborigine tribes celebration and Western discuss using the then returns to Australian manuscript as proof of 1990, Gustave Rathe writes an account the church. Maritime of his grandfather, Miho "Michael" continual habitation on Museum in the land since 1870s in Baccich and the shipwreck. It's called Fremantle. order to keep various The Wreck of the Barque Stefano. Australia. state rights. November 1998. 1880 Miho 2000: Josko Petkovic, an Gustave Rathe relocates from academic film maker seeks and son Paul Dubrovnik to interviews with Letters, e-mails, travel to Fre-New Orleans descendants of Stefano and artifacts are and takes the sailors. He tracks down all mantle to visit exchanged relics retrieved manuscript with primary descendants of the between from the boat. Stefano story. He also aboriginal makes a photocopy of the descendants and manuscript held in the descendants of Rijeka Maritime Museum. The Tuckey and Rathe's book printed in manuscript is Miho Baccich Australia and Scotland. translated 1990s and early into English 2000s Petkovic uses the Rathe interview to in 1925 make a one-hour, three-screenvideo-triptych entitled "The Resurrection of the Barque Stefano: Part 1 - Shipwrecked after Sunset, which is completed in 2001. Miho's 7 children all are The online Croatian given copies of the manuscript. One of his Chronicle prints "Croats in daughters, born October 27, 1890, the 15th anniversary of Louisiana and Mississippi: A the shipwreck, is named Euxenia, Greek for "high Century Long Story." Written by regard of the stranger." This John Peter Kralijc, name is chosen to remind it tells the story of them of his survival and is Manuscript is Miho within the passed along in each now available Green= public memory frame of Croatian generation. in parts on Blue= private memory settlements in US. the internet.

The Barque Stefano, which was captained by Vlaho Miloslavich, was wrecked in 1875 near Point Cloates in Australia. Ivan Jurich and Miho Baccich survive.

Figure 3